

NKOSITHANDILEB SOLAR

School uses Venezuelan folding containers for exchange

Overview

Why are Venezuelan schools struggling to keep their doors open?

Due to the economic crisis in Venezuela, families haven't been able to afford school supplies or enough food to feed their children, leading to fewer students attending schools at the beginning of the 2018-2019 school year, according to Reuters. Schools in Venezuela are struggling to keep their doors open as a result.

How do Venezuelan schools work?

Authors Catalina Reyes and Maria Andreina Cantele meeting with a school principal in Caracas, Venezuela. An engaged community surrounds these schools, moving extra miles to retain teachers. They self-organize to provide flexibility and support; for example, salaries are supplemented by small cash or in-kind contributions from parents.

Are school meals a luxury in Venezuela?

School meals are not a luxury that all children in Venezuela have. Figuera, the teacher on Margarita Island who fishes to complement her salary, said students in her classroom often stop paying attention quickly because they are hungry or tell her they don't feel well because they haven't eaten.

How many Venezuelans are dropping out of school?

According to Reuters, approximately 3 million of Venezuela's 8 million school-aged children have dropped out at the beginning of the 2018-2019 school year. Teachers in Venezuela noticed fewer students in attendance than usual.

School uses Venezuelan folding containers for exchange

Due to the economic crisis in Venezuela, families haven't been able to afford school supplies or enough food to feed their children, leading to fewer students attending schools at the beginning of the 2018-2019 school year, according to Reuters. Schools in Venezuela are struggling to keep their doors open as a result.

Authors Catalina Reyes and Maria Andreina Cantele meeting with a school principal in Caracas, Venezuela. An engaged community surrounds these schools, moving extra miles to retain teachers. They self-organize to provide flexibility and support; for example, salaries are supplemented by small cash or in-kind contributions from parents.

School meals are not a luxury that all children in Venezuela have. Figuera, the teacher on Margarita Island who fishes to complement her salary, said students in her classroom often stop paying attention quickly because they are hungry or tell her they don't feel well because they haven't eaten.

According to Reuters, approximately 3 million of Venezuela's 8 million school-aged children have dropped out at the beginning of the 2018-2019 school year. Teachers in Venezuela noticed fewer students in attendance than usual.

The economic crisis has severely impacted the Venezuelan educational system with food insecurity taking a major toll.

Venezuela has freed 10 Americans in exchange for Venezuelans whom the United States had sent to a prison in El Salvador.

The economic crisis has severely impacted the Venezuelan educational system with food insecurity taking a major toll.

Your support gives these kids a hot, nutritious meal during their school day. Photo by Ronal Labrador. "Mommy, my head hurts, please give me some bread," exclaims Pablo, a ...

Venezuela has freed 10 Americans in exchange for Venezuelans whom the United States had sent to a prison in El Salvador.

While en route to Peru in order to flee Venezuela's humanitarian crisis, Daniel, a 5-year-old boy, said he loved school -- and ...

The U.S. is helping Venezuelan children to continue learning even after they've fled their country. Enrollment in kindergarten through 12th grade in Venezuela fell by 2 million ...

MARACAIBO (Reuters) -Piles of discarded plastic and broken school furniture are being given a second life in northwestern Venezuela, where a local foundation is turning waste ...

Venezuela is grappling with an education crisis, marked by low quality and high teacher dropout rates. From 2018 to 2021, 25% of teachers left the system.

The project incorporates other planet-friendly components, such as a rainwater collection system and a drip irrigation system in the ...

The project incorporates other planet-friendly components, such as a rainwater collection system and a drip irrigation system in the school garden, saving about 70 percent of ...

Poverty, low teacher salaries, and a lack of basic infrastructure are leaving millions of Venezuelan children with little to no education.

Your support gives these kids a hot, nutritious meal during their school day. Photo by Ronal Labrador. "Mommy, ...

El Salvador president proposes prisoner exchange with Venezuela TRUMP ADMINISTRATION APPEALS JUDGE'S RULING THAT VENEZUELAN DEPORTED TO EL ...

While en route to Peru in order to flee Venezuela's humanitarian crisis, Daniel, a 5-year-old boy, said he loved school -- and he missed studying. Daniel is one of more than 4 ...

Poverty, low teacher salaries, and a lack of basic infrastructure are leaving millions of Venezuelan children with little to no education.

Contact Us

For catalog requests, pricing, or partnerships, please contact:

NKOSITHANDILEB SOLAR

Phone: +27-11-934-5771

Email: info@nkosithandileb.co.za

Website: <https://www.nkosithandileb.co.za>

Scan QR code to visit our website:

